Headline:
Generally becoming dry this evening. Showers possible in northernmost areas.

This Evening and Tonight:
Any lingering rain clears through the evening, leaving a largely dry night across the region, with plenty of clear spells. The odd glancing shower remains possible in northernmost areas of Staffordshire and Shropshire. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Monday:
Patchy cloud allowing for sunny spells through the day. Mostly dry, though the odd shower cannot be ruled out in the afternoon, mainly in northern and western areas. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Occasional spells of rain and drizzle for most on Tuesday and Wednesday, but otherwise remaining largely dry and cloudy, feeling cooler. Drier still on Thursday, with more sunny spells.
